RE: Professional Reference – Patrick Moody

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am writing this letter as a personal reference and to confirm that Mr. Patrick Moody worked in the computer science/web development field for 1.5 years. My name is Anthony Flett and I have been employed by Tonkin Consulting since 2006.

Tonkin is an Engineering Consultancy providing services in all areas of civil engineering and design. This includes civil, structural, transport, stormwater and environmental projects. During my role as Project Engineer at Tonkin I worked with Patrick Moody who held the position of Engineer from August 2008 to March 2010.

As an Engineer at Tonkin, Mr. Moody was responsible for several projects, including computer modeling of the Adelaide City water distribution system and performing data analysis of water network pressure for demand prediction. He was also responsible for computer design of pressure sewage systems in residential land development projects in South Australia. Mr. Moody conducted storm water drainage calculations for flood events in commercial and residential developments. Finally, Mr. Moody created project specifications and managed works on large $1M - $10M civil construction projects, including civil design of pavement and retaining walls on road upgrade projects.

During his time at Tonkin, Mr. Moody proved to be a skilled Computer Engineer. I am pleased to provide this professional reference for Patrick Moody and to confirm that he possesses 1.5 years of work experience in this industry. Should you require any information regarding his experience and employment at Tonkin, or performance, I would be happy to speak with you personally. Please don't hesitate to contact me at the number below.

Regards,
